

coaching - the next level

advanced coaching skills

in a nutshell...

This advanced coaching programme continues to develop the skills of your company's internal coach, mentor and supervisor through deeper listening, empathy skills and an introduction to new coaching tools.

who should go...

Anyone who has previously attended Kapow's Coaching Communication Skills Workshop or another recognised coaching training programme

Any in-house coach wanting to deepen their personal knowledge and coaching skills through supervision and active learning

Managers, leaders and executives wanting to take their coaching skills and competencies to an advanced level

what to expect...

For the attendee:

Understanding about best practice coaching; looking at coaching contracts, confidentiality, developing trust and how to sustain the coaching relationship

Introduction to new coaching tools for a more adaptable coaching style; perspectives, values clarification

Understanding what is motivation and your client's personal barriers to success

Coaching practice, supervision and peer coaching opportunities for continuing the coaching communication culture at work

For the business:

Increased confidence from your in-house coaches and more effective use of their time whilst supporting other employees

Greater application of coaching tools and models for every day interaction both internally and externally for more effective communication

Improved relationships in and outside of the workplace due to effective listening and problem solving skills
